

Plugged lie in the bunker

1. Turn the clubface in so that the toe of the club is pointing more to the left of the hole (opposite for left handers) This is called a 'closed' clubface
2. Aim to hit the sand before the ball, as usual, but with a lot of force. Don't be afraid to give it a really good hit.
3. Use a nice big swing and follow through as best you can and hope for the best. It's a tricky one so there is a little luck involved in the type of lie you have.

GOOD LUCK
